Commentary

During the third quarter 2021, the Axiom Global Equity Strategy ("Strategy") outperformed the MSCI ACWI Index ("Index") net of fees. The Strategy remains ahead of the benchmark on a net of fees basis over the year-to-date, 1-year, 3-year, 5-year, 10-year, and since inception periods.

Axiom outperformed this quarter despite global growth headwinds from the Delta variant, supply chain disruptions, and policy. Key global economic indicators continued to moderate this quarter. For example, the JPM Global PMI Composite has fallen every month since peaking in May at 58.6 and the most recent August data point of 52.6 indicates a more moderate pace of global recovery. Leading the global slowdown, China's local Caixin PMI Composite fell to 47.2 in August as China has been especially aggressive about reimposing a COVID lockdown in the face of Delta. In addition, President Xi's policy turn towards more direct state control over the economy under the mantra of "common prosperity" resulted in a myriad of disruptive regulations. Finally, the Evergrande credit saga pressured the important Chinese property sector. Recently, there have been signs of stabilization in China as policy has started easing in response to the slowdown. In the US, a modest backup in interest rates combined with persistent labor market imbalances restrained the pace of economic recovery. The US policy debate around substantial proposed tax hikes partly under the rubric of "fighting income inequality" creates risks to private sector investment and longer-term economic growth. Inflation remains elevated globally and it is still unclear how soon inflation will moderate once supply chain bottlenecks ease. Global growth stocks slightly outperformed global value stocks this quarter notwithstanding a setback to emerging market growth stocks due to the policy headwinds facing the Chinese internet sector. While the recovery is maturing and economic growth is moderating, corporate profitability remains attractive. Also providing support, the Delta-wave appears to have peaked and credit conditions continue to be extremely favorable for equities.

The best performing sectors on a relative basis during the third quarter were health care, due to top performing stock in the portfolio Moderna, followed by information technology, led by high performing STMicroelectronics, and communication services, due to strong performance from Alphabet. Financials, energy, and consumer discretionary were the largest relative detractors for the quarter.

The top performing countries on a relative basis were the United States, due to top performing stocks Moderna and Danaher, followed by the Netherlands, led by ASML, and lastly China. The largest detracting country for the quarter was India, followed by Russia and Saudi Arabia.

From an individual stock perspective, the highest relative contributors this quarter were Moderna, Danaher, STMicroelectronics, ASML, and Alphabet. The largest detractors for the quarter included RingCentral, American Eagle, Activision, Las Vegas Sands, and PayPal.

We are approaching the one-year anniversary of the announcement of vaccines. While the recovery is continuing, year-on-year economic comparisons get more challenging. Also, we are seeing some policy headwinds from proposed tax and interest rate hikes globally. Furthermore, input prices, especially related to energy and logistics, represent ongoing economic challenges. Notwithstanding the challenges, global growth seems likely to settle into a more moderate expansion supported by ongoing reopening and supply chain restocking, absent additional major policy or health shocks. As growth moderates, value stocks seem likely to face renewed challenges having benefited from the cyclical tailwinds. We remain positive about the opportunities to differentiate Axiom's portfolios through dynamic growth stock selection with a medium and longer-term time horizon.
